ous festival. Dr. Wile has traveled very exten dvely and has lectured in the largest cities of the United States on the very subject which he intends to present be-fore the people of Honolulu next week. The lecture will be illustrated and there will be an admission fee. All the details will be published soon. Dr. Wile is a Shriner and a very high Mason, and the lecture will be under the suspices of the Masons of the city.

The visiting medico intends to give this lecture solely for charity and the proceeds will go toward replenishing the coffers of that most worthy charitable institutions, the Associated

The entertainment will take place Friday night of next week. Dr. Wile. will use a stereopticon in the presentation of his views of which there are fifty-nine. One of these is an autograph picture of Lang, the man who played the part of the Christus. The lecture will take an hour and three quarters. It has met with great sucess on the mainland. On two separate occasions-once in Philadelphia and again in Brooklyn-there were three thousand people present in the

There are quite a number of island people who were in Oberammergau luring the presentation of the Pasionen Spiel in 1900 and an interesting little incident in connection with the meeting there of two ladies from Honolulu was told here upon the return of one of them.

It appears that a Hawaiian lady who is residing with her husband in Wies-Pine finish and good tone, an instru-then been in the Vaterland for only a short time, chanced to journey to Oberammergau and at the same time anoth-At $4.00 er lady who is at present traveling on the Mainland, made a similar pilgrim-

> The first lady had received from home one of the beautiful leihulu leis of a high-grade mandolin, so much prized by Hawaiians and almost impossible to obtain at the present time and was wearing this about her hat when the second lady spied her far down one of the streets. She knew the sign at once, concluded that a Hawaiian lady was ahead of her and so, hastening along, she soon caught up and found her surmise to be has ever made. It was terrible on the correct. There was naturally a perfect way to the Colonies and worse comlove feast.

The steamer Slerra, from the Colonies, arrived at the Oceanic dock soon after I o'clock this afternoon, after one of the most disagreeable trips she has ever experienced. For the whole distance from Sydney until just off this port, the vessel experienced a succession of gales and heavy seas, making the voyage a most uncomfortable one The following report of First Officer

Trask gives an idea of the trip: "Sailed from Sydney January 19th at 2 p. m., arrived at Auckland 9:17 a. m. on the 23rd, after a very stormy passage of three days seventeen hours and forty-seven minutes. Left Auck land on 24th, having been detalnor twenty hours by very thick and heavy northeast gales, and arrived at Pago Pago on the 27th after a still more stormy passage of four days, five hours and five minutes. Detention at Pago Pago three hours and thirty-five minutes. Arrived at Fanning's Island January 31 at 1 p. m. Had constant heavy rain and thick stormy weather from the time of leaving Pago Pago to Fanning's. During this time, we were mable to take observations. Sailed from Fanning's at 2 p. m. the day of arrival and arrived off the harbor at Honolulu at 11:45 a. m., February 3rd. Steaming time from Fanning's to Hopolulu, two days twenty-one hours and thirty-seven minutes. Had constant heavy northeast and east northeast winds and sea all the way. The wind at times blew with great force. "Total steaming time from Sydney to Honolulu, fifteen days, eighteen hours and twenty-six minutes. Detention in ports, one day eleven hours fifty-eight minutes.

"Captain Houdlette reports the present trip as the worst round voyage he ing back." The steamer has a large through pas

Kawalakekua is not a difficult name to pronounce when one goes about it propertly. Indeed, it has become a necessity rather than an accomplish-ment, to pronounce this name, because everyone who has tasted the fine spark-ling volcano water from this place is anxious to repeat the experiment and in order to do this one must ask for it at any one of the thirty or more places where it may be found in Honoluin. The Wawaiakekua volcano water has come to stay. Madame Pele set the springs up in business and from all indications when the present generation is beneath the sod, the waters will continue to flow, so excellent has been the workmanship of the fire goddess of

The local market is not the only place where the water is sold. By the last steamer to the Coast, there went forth five hundred cases and a steame some time previous to that took half th. amount. The agents in San Fran-cisco are E. G. Lyons & Rass & Co. who report that since the first ship ment there has been such a great de-mand for the water that it has been necessary to increase the order. The demand is also increasing on the home market. A shipment was sent to the Osaka fair with the exhibit from Hawail so that in a short time the Japan-ese as well as the Hawaiians and Americans, will be clamoring for the
